

Says Cuba Hit by Five Bombs Thursday Night

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Alexander Rorke told an anti-Communist meeting today he was aboard a plane that dropped "five defensive bombs" on refineries in Havana Thursday night.

Rorke, listed on the program as a television reporter-photographer, did not explain what he meant by "defensive bombs" but presumably it was a play on words on the contentions by the Russians that they have only defensive weapons in Cuba.

"The bombs went off, but the tanks did not blow," he said.

"He added 'we made two passes—they can't deny it.'"

Rorke spoke to a meeting billed as an anti-Communist liaison seminar.

Later, Rorke told a reporter he was from New York City and had been a reporter for the National Broadcasting Company in Cuba and was imprisoned there when Fidel Castro came to power. He said also it was his boat, Violynn III, which was taken by the British.

Bodies of Three of 22 Trapped Miners Found

By BEN DEFOREST

CLARKSBURG, W. Va. (AP)—Rescue crews working their way slowly into the Clinchfield Coal Co. Compass No. 2 mine today found the bodies of three of 22 miners trapped by a violent gas explosion deep inside the mine.

There was little hope the other 19 would be found alive.

Two of the victims were sprawled in the main passageway about 1 1/2 miles from the foot of the main shaft. The third body was nearby. None was identified.

Announcement of the finding of the first victims of the Thursday explosion was made by mine Supt. Harry Chapman, whose brother is one of the missing miners.

The bodies, Chapman reported, were found near the opening of a drift in which 13 miners were scheduled to be working when a rumbling gas explosion hit the mine.

Seven other men were assigned to a drift 2,000 feet farther into the mine and two men were assisting both crews.

Outside the mine's entrance, women, coal miners in working gear, police and coal company officials kept vigil.

There was nothing on the outside to indicate what had taken place. Fans which circulate air through the mine continued to operate. The shaft was not damaged. The elevator which can carry 10 men down into the working area was still operating.

Leonard Timms, state mines director, said the trapped men were about 1 1/4 miles from the shaft when the explosion "rumbled through the deep works."

As rescue crews leapfrogged through mine drifts toward the explosion area 5,000 feet back in the mine, a company official said:

"We have hopes, but chances Continued on Page Five

Hearing on Route of Highway

At left District Highway Engineer J. E. Lowder is shown accepting a protest petition from James Morrow, representing some 120 property owners, at today's hearing on the rerouting of Highway 29.

The Arkansas Highway Department's plan to reroute Highway 29 from Hope City limits down Hervey to the junction of Highway 67 came under fire this morning in a public meeting called by the Department at Hempstead Court-house.

Some 200 present mostly protested because of right-of-way which landowners would give up and objection to hazardous traffic which the route would create. Perhaps the most significant protest came from a petition with signatures of 120 property owners along Hervey Street.

The meeting was conducted by J. E. Lowder, district engineer, who presented the Highway Department's side and then politely listened to complaints and answered some questions.

Mr. Lowder predicted that by 1982, Highway 29 would be carrying 8,650 vehicles a day as compared to the present 3,900. He said that Main street is a constant problem and caused the bottleneck by joining Highway 67 right downtown. He said the present Main St. roadbed would not stand up under traffic and that $26,000 spent on it last year hasn't provided much improvement.

Here's the Highway Department reason for the change: Reduce vehicle operation cost, trip time, safety for both vehicles and pedestrians, driving comfort, safety to school children and transported pupils, increase capacity for existing and future traffic volumes and weights, connection with other highways, service to business without hopelessly congesting the area and future land, maximum police and fire protection, mail and deliver service and encouragement to community growth.

Although the City Planning Commission approved the Hervey St. route a spokesman emphasized that they had only two choices, Main or Hervey, so they took the latter. Apparently the Highway Department has not explored the possibility of route further west as there was no answer when questioned about one.

No action was taken as this was only a public hearing.

Soviet Planes Buzz Copters Over Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet planes approached two U.S. helicopters over East Berlin today in an apparent effort to discourage their routine flights over the Communist half of the city.

U.S. sources said the Soviet planes came within 500 yards of the helicopters.

The helicopters returned unharmed to West Berlin after flights lasting about 40 minutes.

The helicopters were on routine flights in the Berlin Control Zone, which stretches over both parts of the city.

The Soviets have objected repeatedly to American helicopter flights over East Berlin, but the Western Allies contend that they have a right to fly anywhere in the control zone. The zone covers a circle of 20 miles radius from the center of the city.

Last August the Soviets threatened to shoot down an American helicopter which took off on a routine flight over the zone after filing a flight plan with the Berlin Air Safety Center. The center is administered by all four occupation powers—the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France.

The Soviets did not carry out their threat, and the U.S. commandant in Berlin protested to the Soviet commandant.

Following the lunch break, visitors will be taken on a tour of the south Spencer tract. During the afternoon, Dr. Maurice Ray, animal husbandman, will explain the work being done on grazing pressures for cow herds, cow growth and development, calf crop percentages, calf growth, and parasitism. Beginning at 2:15 p.m., Ray and Spooner will hold a question and answer forum. It is planned to adjourn the program at 2:45.

Russia Agrees to Help Keep Laos Peaceful, Neutral

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev assured Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman today that he joined with the United States in affirming full support of the accord on keeping Laos neutral and peaceful.

Khrushchev made the declaration in a joint communique issued after he had discussed the Laos situation for three and a half hours in the Kremlin with Harriman.

The communique declared that, "The President (Kennedy) and chairman of the Council of Ministers (Khrushchev) reaffirmed that both governments fully support the general agreements on the Laotian question about which there was an exchange of views between them at Vienna and a mutual understanding reached."

By REINHOLD ENSZ

MOSCOW (AP)—Diplomatic troubleshooter W. Averell Harriman put before Premier Khrushchev today an appeal from President Kennedy for help in bringing peace to Laos.

Harriman and U.S. Ambassador Foy Kohler went to the Kremlin to see the Soviet premier after talking for 2 1/2 hours with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

"Each of us reassured the other that our governments are determined to do all they can to assure the independence and neutrality of Laos," Harriman told newsmen after his meeting with Gromyko.

The U.S. undersecretary of state declined to say whether he was optimistic or pessimistic. "I would not know about using those words," he said.

Harriman carried a personal letter from Kennedy asking Khrushchev to help enforce the Geneva agreement guaranteeing the neutrality of the tiny Southeast Asian kingdom threatened by Communist-controlled Pathet Lao forces.

Prospects appeared remote that the Soviets would intervene to check the Pathet Lao.

In Laos, informed sources in Vientiane reported the Pathet Lao shelled positions held by neutralist Gen. Kong Le's troops with artillery and mortars from 5 a.m. until 2 p.m. Thursday but apparently did not otherwise try to drive the neutralists from their positions. The firing reportedly stopped when a storm broke over the area.

The sources said that members of the International Control Commission who flew to the Plain de Jarnes at the time heard and saw the Pathet Lao shell bursts.

Harriman, the chief U.S. negotiator at the Geneva conference on Laos, arrived from London Thursday night aboard a Soviet airliner.

Typed Fast to Sound Like Ticker

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A former employe of David M. Cohn, on trial on charges of fraud in the sale of securities, testified Thursday the defendant once had his secretary type fast so it would sound like a ticker tape to a customer on the telephone.

Thomas J. Ellington testified that he heard Cohn tell a customer who had called for a quotation on a certain stock that he didn't have it, but one might be coming in over the ticker tape. Ellington said Cohn then held the phone in the direction of the typewriter, told his secretary to type fast, and advised the customer. "It's come in now."

A jury of 10 men and two women has been hearing testimony in the case for four days.

Thursday Clint Jones, state securities commissioner, testified that Cohn filed a surety bond written on the Fidelity and Mutual Company of Minnesota with his office in order to obtain a broker's license. Jones said he later found out that there was no such firm.

Cohn testified someone else had obtained the bond for him and he did not know it was forged.

Much of the testimony concerns the manner in which Cohn sold 46,000 shares of stock of Standard, Inc., a corporation organized in April 1960 to manufacture coin-operated dry-cleaning machines.

Forum for Freedom Ends Today

SEARCY, Ark. (AP)—The 24th annual Freedom Forum at Harding College entered a third phase Thursday, as it drew to a close. Speakers dealt with promotion of the American way of life through education.

The forum ends today. Earlier, delegates heard talks on the various "isms" existent in the world and on the relation of world economics to freedom.

Dr. Anthony Bouscaren, professor of political science at Loyola College at Syracuse, N.Y., said Thursday "our great battle with the communists is the battle for the minds of youth and we're losing ground."

Bouscaren advocated the teaching of communism in schools, saying youth does not understand the ideology and that it has a special appeal to students.

"Student response to communism varies with the amount of sophistication of the student."

The biggest problems in education of the general public and students about communism is the level of teaching and the material used, he said.

Dr. Clare Griffin listed education among several things he said have brought economic progress to America. He listed natural resources, capital, mobility, initiative, philosophy and religion as aids in this progress.

The two sources of progress are creation of the new and destruction of the old, Griffin said.

The normally progressive person might be all for progress until something progressive moved into his own field. If this happened, and the progress affected him directly, that person may no longer be in favor of progress, he said.

Mrs. Jessica Wyatt Payne of Huntington, W. Va., an author and member of the legislature of her state, advocated a program for civic clubs to ascertain communist activities in American communities.

She said there should be committees to weed out suspicious text books, including not only those preaching socialism, but advocating such things as "group dynamics."

"We must abandon modernism, neutralism and intellectualism," she said.

The founding fathers of America, she said, would not have wanted the nation in the United Nations; would not have "approved" of spending money and lives on foreign wars when we're not mad at anybody."

Osceola Workers Against Union

OSCEOLA, Ark. (AP)—Employees of the American Greeting Corp. refused representation by the Pulp, Sulphite and Papermill Workers Union Thursday by a vote of 532 against to 86 for.

A total of 631 employees were eligible to vote in the election, ordered by the National Labor Relations Board after union officials complained that the company was interfering with organizing activity.

Plant manager Jim Williams said 3 of the votes were challenged.

It's part of our tradition. Up means growth, success, progress. Up means wider perspectives, more potential. Up is exciting.
 The strong and the healthy grow upwards. Like the daily newspaper. Because it is so necessary in the world we live in... fills a vital function... is the most useful, effective medium of communication... for all these reasons the daily newspaper moves up in circulation and in advertising revenue.
 Since 1940, daily newspaper circulation has risen from 41 million to more than 60 million, a growth rate almost double that of the adult population in the same years. Newspaper advertising revenue grew from $2 billion in 1949 to more than $3.6 billion in 1961.
 Newspapers will keep moving up, staying on top as the advertiser's most effective medium.

Chapter XXIII

I thought it wiser not to push or she'd close up tight. "For seven years," she said, "Lee Hooper paid me $500 a month plus two thousand a year for Dawn's education. But it wasn't the way that looks. That's all I can say."

"The letters?" I asked. "They were records of certain transactions, certain private matters, I was holding for the General," Frances said. "In the wrong hands they could be used against him. The General and I were the only ones who knew they existed."

"Yet Dennis came looking for them." Frances nodded. "And when he called the General last night it was to tell him he had them. The General called me the minute Dennis had hung up to ask me if the documents — the records — were really gone. That's how I knew it was Dennis. That's how I was able to go direct to his apartment."

And that, I told myself, accounted for the long wait Higby had had before Frances came out of her apartment building.

"You should go to the police and tell your story." "No," she said, with a flat finality. "I won't reveal the existence of those records, Corny. They are Lee Hooper's secret. I owe him that loyalty. He kept me going for seven years when I might have wound up in the booby hatch without him."

As we walked through the revolving door of Frances' apartment building I saw Fred Twining pacing nervously up and down near the elevator.

"Can I go upstairs with you?" Fred asked. "I'm likely to be picked up here before I can tell you the whole thing."

"Of course come up," Frances said.

The elevator was self-service at night. The minute the door closed Fred began to talk.

"It's Canaday," he said. "Just before I got there someone rang his front-door bell. I imagine he thought it was me. He opened the door and somebody emptied a .45 into his chest and head. He's very dead, Corny."

"TRPB investigator who was going to help us prove the General once paid your rent," I said.

The car stopped. The door opened. Frances led us down the hall and opened her apartment door with a key. Somebody was playing the hi-fi machine. It was Dawn, stretched out on the couch, staring up at the ceiling through the dark lenses of her glasses.

Frances walked over and turned off the record player.

"When I got there," Fred said, "Canaday's wife was trying to get help, children crying, neighbors hysterically doing nothing. It was a mess."

"You didn't stay to help," I said, puzzled. It wasn't like Fred to walk out on a situation like that.

"I didn't for two reasons," he said. "Just as I walked into the building a guy came running out. I recognized the guy. He was the one you bumped into in the restaurant up on Eighty-Ninth Street. Remember, when you were leaving the phone after talking to Canaday? When I saw what had happened I raced back out onto the street in the hope I might catch up with the guy. He was gone. He heard your conversation with Canaday. He beat me there."

"But you didn't go back in?"

"I heard a prowl car siren," Fred said. He took a handkerchief out of his hip pocket and wiped the sweat off his face. "Canaday probably told his wife he was expecting me. The cops would grab me and have me on the griddle all night — and you, too."

I shook my head.

"Maybe I'm way off base," Fred said. "But this is how it looked to me, Corny. Canaday was going to help us prove that General Hooper once paid Mrs. Terrill's rent for a spell. That's all he was going to help us do. They killed him to prevent it. There's one other person who can prove it for us. I don't want to frighten the ladies, Corny, but I thought Mrs. Terrill might be next on their list."

He turned to Dawn. "The fellow who was with Dennis Hooper yesterday when he raided this place, and who chased you today — was he about six feet, dark curly hair, a little scar over his left eyebrow?"

Dawn's head moved up and down.

"He's the one you bumped into, Corny," Fred said. "He's the one who polished off Canaday."

The black glasses stared straight at Fred. Then Dawn opened her mouth — and screamed! She turned and ran down the hall, still screaming.

Frances hurried after her.

Frances reappeared in the hall doorway. She'd been pale before. She was gray as parchment now.

"Corny!" she said, in a voice I hadn't heard before. "She's out on the terrace. Perched on the rail — right over the street! She — she wants you!"

Contestants Get Three Hairdos

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (A) — The 51 contestants in the Mrs. America contest do up their hair three different ways for the judges today.

The hair styling competition, third of the week, requires the women to fix their hair according to a prescribed formula, then tear it down and fix it two other ways of their own choice.

The first competition, home decoration, was won by Mrs. Montana, Gloria Heggen of Ekallaka. The second, baking an apple pie from standard ingredients and recipes, was won by Wynette K. Car of Brigham City, Utah.

Winners in the individual contests pile up points toward the Mrs. America title, to be awarded Saturday night.

Murder Trial in 3rd Day at Ft. Smith

By GEORGE F. BARTSCH

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — The state produced $50,000 in notes drawn on the V&R Sales Co. of Fort Smith by Frederick L. Rush today as Rush's first degree murder trial entered its third day in Sebastian Circuit Court.

Carl Robbins, vice president of the First National Bank of Fort Smith, on which the notes were drawn, produced ledger sheets showing that all of the checks were executed by Frederick Rush and that most were endorsed by Rush.

Rush is being tried for the fatal shooting of his wealthy stepfather, Paul Rush, 56, last May 13 at the V&R Sales Co., which he owned.

The notes were drawn during a period ranging from Nov. 24, 1961 to March 14, 1962. Two were for $5,000 and four were for $10,000 each.

One bore the endorsement of Paul Rush and the state attempted to prove the signature was not his.

Lt. Howard Chandler, questionable documents examiner for the State Police, testified that the signature on the note allegedly signed by Paul Rush differed from his known signature.

Defense Atty. Hugh Hardin, on cross-examination of Chandler, brought out that there was a possibility the note had been lying on a rough surface when signed.

The state also produced a divorce suit filed by Paul Rush's wife, Virginia, on April 23, 1962, which asked that she be awarded half interest in the varied Rush business enterprises in Fort Smith and Waldron.

Prosecutor Lyman Mikel contended in his opening statement Wednesday that Frederick Rush plotted the death of his stepfather because he was in danger of losing his financial security because of the divorce action and because V&R was sliding rapidly toward bankruptcy.

Hardin, in questioning Robbins, brought out that all of the notes executed by Frederick Rush had been deposited to the general account of V&R. He said only Paul and Virginia Rush were allowed to write checks on the general account. Robbins said all the notes were paid.

Testimony in the trial of Frederick Rush, 28, stepson of the victim, centered around the defendant's relation with Mrs. Taylor, Carolyn Browne, 21, of Fort Smith and Raymond Wood, 21, of Roland, Okla. The latter two are also charged with first degree murder in the shooting, last May 13, of the elder Rush.

Mrs. Taylor testified Thursday that she had heard Rush, Wood and Miss Brown talk about the murder while they were in a motel room in Oklahoma City in July.

She said she heard Miss Brown say, "That's the thanks I get for helping you murder your father."

Rush was shot to death in the basement of the V&R Sales Company, a retail outlet he owned. The defendant, who was wounded in the shoulder during the shooting, has told police he and the victim went to investigate a light they found burning in the building.

Mrs. Taylor testified Thursday that she and Miss Brown were being supported by the defendant. She said Rush told her he hated his father and that he didn't want to see the V&R Sales Company, where he was employed, closed. Both men owned an interest in the firm.

The state contends the firm was on its way towards bankruptcy and produced $50,000 in notes drawn on it by Frederick Rush. Mrs. Taylor testified that she, Rush and Miss Brown had gone to Tulsa to look for some people

Municipal Group, Faubus at Odds

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A tiff between Gov. Orval E. Faubus and the Arkansas Municipal League over additional street funds was brought to a temporary halt Thursday.

Executive Director Glenn Zimmerman wrote in the league magazine this week that Faubus promised to help the cities get more funds, but changed his mind without informing the league.

The league has also charged that the governor had a House bill to give the cities more money killed in the Senate.

Thursday Faubus challenged the league to produce the senator it says failed, on the governor's orders, to introduce the bill. And he termed the charges that he changed his mind "completely erroneous."

named Napp but didn't find them. Later they went to the city to look for "a Billy Irons," she said.

Pros. Atty. Lyman Mikel said in his opening statement the state would prove that Frederick Rush had approached Irons and asked him to get a silencer for a gun.

Mrs. Taylor testified Miss Brown had been asked to drive the car for the defendant and Woods, but refused.

"Then Fred said he'd give her $5,000," she testified, "and she said she'd drive the car."

She quoted Frederick as saying after the elder Rush's death, that he had "done his mother a big favor by killing Paul."

The state introduced several letters purportedly written by the defendant to Mrs. Taylor. One said in part, "be hateful to them (the police). They'll have to leave us alone some day."

ARREST PROTESTER — Montgomery, Ala., police arrest one of 8 pickets that were protesting the meeting of U.S. Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy and staunch segregationist Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama. Two of the 18 pickets arrested for parading without a permit resisted the police and were hurled badly into the paddy wagon.

Zimmerman said the senator

"said the governor asked him not to introduce it. He said it, not the league." He added it would be useless to carry the matter further.

Giles Orders Umps to Be More Lenient

CINCINNATI (AP) — President Warren Giles of the National League ordered his umpires today to stop strict assessment of the controversial balk calls temporarily.

Giles said suspension of the strict interpretation will continue until he confers on the matter May 7 with Commissioner Ford Frick and President Joe Cronin of the American League.

"Accordingly," he said, "I am instructing our umpires to require the pitcher, in a set position, to come to 'stop' but disregard the requirement of 'at least one second.'"

A ripening epidemic of balk calls in the National League this spring caused mounting controversy, and Frick stepped in Thursday with the call for a conference.

Frick said there were plain differences in interpretation of the balk rule by the two leagues, and he wanted uniformity if the rule is retained.

Up to Frick's Thursday conference call, there had been only two balks called by American League umpires, against 68 called in the National League.

Giles said today he had studied the balk calls this year and said the violations were genuine, but "our umpires are enforcing the rule more rigidly than in previous years."

He said however, that lax enforcement in previous years caused some pitchers to develop "a pitching rhythm that, while in violation of the letter of the rule, has been permitted in the past."

Giles said: "Excessive balk calls do not add to the attractiveness of the game, but base runners need and are entitled to the protection of a 'stop.'"

The National League chief said he foresees these possibilities developing from the meeting with Cronin and Frick:

"1. Insist that all pitchers conform to the rule, which requires

Final Rites for Baptist Leader

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Friday for Dr. James Sterling Rogers, an Arkansas Baptist leader for over half a century, who died in a Conway hospital Wednesday. Rogers was 92.

A native of Kentucky, he came to Arkansas in 1885. He has served as pastor of the First Baptist Church in Searcy, First Baptist Church in Clarendon and the Ohio St. Baptist Church in Pine Bluff.

Rogers served from 1929 to 1941 as president of Central Baptist College for Girls in Conway. He was formerly on the faculty of Ouachita Baptist College, Arkadelphia and Southwestern Baptist Seminary, Fort Worth, Tex. He was executive secretary of the Arkansas Baptist Convention for 16 years and a former superintendent of the Arkansas Baptist Hospital.

He is survived by his wife, a son and two daughters.

Services are set at the First Baptist Church in Conway. Burial will be in Little Rock.

"a complete stop of at least one second" and continue enforcement of the rule as written.

"2. Interpret the rule as having the intent of relieving the pitcher only to 'stop,' thereby relieving the umpires of the burden of determining what constitutes 'at least one second'."

"3. Propose to the rules committee consideration of a change in the rule to eliminate the words 'at least one second,' a requirement which is most difficult to determine and almost impossible for 20 different men to judge uniformly."

Time to End a Cocktail Party Problem

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—One of life's little ordeals today is the problem of winding up a cocktail party. Wives like to throw a cocktail party because they feel in this way they can pay off all their small social obligations in a single evening.

It sounds so simple the way they put it. "We'll invite everybody from 5 until 7:30," they say. "When they see that on the note, they'll know we don't intend to serve dinner."

Such a blithe attitude only reflects the triumph of feminine hope over bitter experience.

Everything in nature is supposed to have a beginning, a middle, and an end. But a cocktail party defies nature. Once started, it tends to go on forever.

A cocktail party in your own home starts off deceptively enough. The guests, glass in hand, stand around staring at each other with silent mutual dislike. But two hours later they are as chummy as a bucket full of worms.

Everybody loves everybody. The faint tinkle of conversation has become a steady roar. The clock's hands move on past 7:30 to 8, then to 9, then to 10.

Hardly anyone has left. Tactful suggestions about going out for dinner fall on deaf ears. The guests prefer to raid the refrigerator.

But what can you do to break up a cocktail party?

Here are a few time-tested measures:

1. You turn off the lights and shout through a megaphone, "you don't have to go home, folks, but you can't stay here." Unfortunately, this hint won't affect many guests. They'll simply stay on and start smooching in the dark.

2. Announce loud and clear: "After midnight the house will assess a $5 corkage and cover charge." This doesn't work too well either. Most guests will either write you rubber checks or try to use their credit cards.

3. Paint lipstick dots all over your wife's face and lead her from guest to guest asking, "Do you think she's come down with the measles—or could it be the bubonic plague?" This tactic should thin out the crowd by about a third.

4. Don't wait for the annoyed neighbors to call the police. Phone them yourself. The trouble here is that the police, when they do come, are likely to take off their coats and join the party.

5. Call the Fire Department and offer the captain $25 if he'll turn a hose on the remaining guests and flush them out the front door.

If none of these measures work, you have one final recourse. Pack a bag at the height of the merriment and leave quietly with your wife on a two-week vacation.

When you get back, there may still be half a dozen guests gamely trying to keep the party going. But chances are they'll be in such a weakened condition that you can throw them out bodily.

Then you and the wife can celebrate by going to a cocktail party at someone else's house. How will they get rid of you? That's their problem.

Colorado's Fruit Crop Is Killed

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—A late-season frost on the Western Slope of the Rocky Mountains wiped out most of Colorado's fruit crop, causing a loss of more than $6 million.

Paul W. Swisher, state agriculture commissioner, reported this Wednesday. He said more than 1,100 families depend for their income on peach, cherry and apricot crops.

Swisher said the fruit was damaged extensively by the severe winter, "and what was left was

They Think Viewers Want to Laugh

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The executives of network television and advertisers obviously believe that, more than anything else, audiences like to laugh.

The final nails are being driven wiped out by a late frost last Thursday."

into the structures of next season's schedules and, once again, comedy is king of the channels.

Of some 86 prime-time evening shows next fall, 26 fall into the comedy category.

Second most popular category will be the dramatic anthology. There will be 17 of them, an increase over this season, so they may herald the trend. There will be 15 variety shows, weekly and semiweekly.

It promises to be a lean year for horse opera—only seven remain, although two of them will be 90 minute shows.

Apparently the brave efforts of the three networks to schedule news and actuality programs in prime-time slots haven't worked out too well.

Sole survivors next season will be "CBS Reports" and some Chat Huntley and David Brinkley specials.

There will be six game shows, including a return to the old-fashioned super-prize quiz show on ABC called "100 Grand." Action-adventure will be the lure of 14 series, about par for any season.

The May 23 episode of CBS' "The Nurses" uses the thalidomide pill tragedy as the headline theme for its drama, and goes on to extract plot and point from the birth of a deformed baby, altogether a chilling subject.

By next week just about one quarter of all evening television series on the networks will be repeating shows—not including the feature movies which were repeated to a lot of the audience when they first reached television. Usually they start in late May or June.

Regular sessions of the Arkansas General Assembly begin the second Monday in January in odd-numbered years.

Jury Sanctions School Paddle

CARTERSVILLE, Ga. (AP)—A grand jury has added its sanction to a four-lick paddling which the Taylorsville School principal, Lettoy H. Fargason, gave a third grader.

The jury returned a no bill Tuesday to assault charges brought by Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Dean Jr. as a result of the February spanking of their son, Steve, 9.

The principal said the boy was punished for moving from seat to

...A new way to buy gasoline and save up to 3¢ a gallon

5 grades...5 prices...blended in the gas pump
...blended exactly to fit your car

Half of all U. S. car owners buy the wrong grade of gasoline. Many waste money buying premium octane power their cars can't possibly use.

Others risk engine damage by using a regular grade which causes knock and loss of power, because the engine requires higher octane fuel.

Why is this true? Until now, car owners had to choose between only two or three grades of gasoline—which cannot meet the wide variety of octane requirements of cars on the road today. But now, you can buy precisely the right gasoline for your car—and save money, too!

Drive in to your nearby Lion Dealer's and change to new Lion Octane-Blended Gasoline, blended right in the nozzle in any one of five different octane ratings...at five different prices...one of them exactly right for your car.

Each blend is top-quality Lion gasoline with the exclusive

Lionite® additive that prevents pre-ignition knock or ping... keeps spark plugs clean... improves engine breathing by keeping the carburetor clean.

Here's how Lion Octane-Blending works: The special Octane-Blender pump draws two separate fuels from two underground tanks, feeding them through a hose-within-a-hose in the exact proportion pre-selected for your car.

The lower the octane rating your car needs, the more you save... 1¢, 2¢, even 3¢ a gallon! And Lion is the only place you can get it.

Stop in at your Lion Dealer's next time you're out. He'll help you select the correct blend for your car. Change to Lion Octane-Blended Gasoline, and keep the change!

Move on to Force an Election

WALNUT RIDGE, Ark. (AP)—A move is firmly underway in Walnut Ridge to force an election on combining Lawrence County's two judicial districts and erecting a new courthouse.

A 20-person steering committee is being named by Bill Wade, chairman of the County Development Council, to push the project.

The county's eastern district now is served by a 35-year-old courthouse at Walnut Ridge. A 64-year-old building serves the western district at Powhatan. Both courthouses are in poor condition.

County Judge Brooks Penn told a public meeting Tuesday night that a new courthouse would cost $400,000 to $500,000 and would require a 1½-mill tax levy for 20 years.

The consolidation proposal was endorsed at the public meeting.

Dairy Products Earnings Less

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gross income of Arkansas farmers from dairy products in 1962 was $38.3 million, the Crop Reporting Service announced today.

This was five per cent less than the 1961 gross of $40.7 million. Cash receipts from milk and cream at $33.6 million in 1962 were down two per cent from 1961.

Decreased production and a price per 100 pounds 10 cents lower resulted in the smaller income.

Average number of milk cows in Arkansas in 1962 was 208,000 head, three per cent below the 1961 figure of 214,000. The trend is continuing downward at a slow pace, the service reported.

But milk production per cow continued upward and was at 4,370 pounds in 1962 compared with 4,350 pounds a year earlier.

Wesleyan Guild Holds A Prayer Study

A Prayer Study has been conducted by Wesleyan Service Guild 2 this week with meetings on Monday-Thursday. The study was based on "Dimensions in Prayer" by Steere and a study outline by Bumpers.

Mrs. Rufus Sorrells opened the series of meetings Monday in the home of Mrs. Robert O'Neal. Roses made an inspirational setting. A minimum of business was transacted before the president, Mrs. Chris Petre, introduced the speaker.

Mrs. Sorrells led a discussion in which everyone took part. Questions were asked and answered. The hostess served dessert and cold drinks during the social hour.

The next three nights the group met in the Mary and Martha Class room at First Methodist Church. "The House of Prayer" was the subject Tuesday, led by Miss Mary Anita Lasceter. On Wednesday Miss Troy Hammons was in charge of a discussion on "Hindrances to Prayer." "The Great Prayers of the Bible," including the Lord's Prayer, were discussed by Miss Mary Louise Copeland on the final night, followed by Mrs. Petre with "Fruits of Prayer."

To conclude the Prayer Study, a recording of The Lord's Prayer by the Mormon Tabernacle Choir was played, climaxed the personally meaningful series for all those attending.

23 Missouri Pacific Cars Are Derailed

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—Twenty-three cars of a 141-car Missouri Pacific freight derailed and scattered through downtown Conway at 12:55 a.m. today.

No one was hurt and railroad officials said there was no danger of fire or explosion.

The 23 derailed cars ripped up 300 feet of track—the length of a football field—and tied up three railroad crossings a block from Hendrix College.

The 1½-mile long train was on its way from Coffeyville, Kan., to Little Rock and was passing through Conway at 20 miles per hour when a journal burned off one of the cars and dropped a wheel off the track.

That set off a chain reaction of derailling cars.

The journal is that portion of the rotating axle which turns in the bearing.

The derailed cars were in the middle of the train. Three were empty and twenty were loaded with such products as soybeans and beer.

The beer boxcar was ripped open but railroad authorities said the thousands of cans of beer were not free for the taking.

One tank car derailed.

Some of the cars turned over. Others were twisted onto their sides. Some lay parallel and others horizontal to the tracks.

Bill Baker of Russellville, Missouri Pacific district track supervisor, said it would take two days to clean up the wreckage.

The engineer was F. E. Matthews and the conductor J. H. Wallis, both of North Little Rock.

Other trains were rerouted through Conway.

The front of the derailed train, still on the track, was to proceed to Little Rock.

The deraiment was between Mill and Independence Streets.

One Arrested in Alabama Case, Freed

GADSDEN, Ala. (AP)—Tight-lipped authorities have freed one of two men questioned at length about the roadside slaying of a Maryland integration pilgrim.

The other man still was being held today on an open charge.

The man released was identified as Gaddis Kilian, 44, who reportedly turned himself in when his wife told him officers had been looking for him.

Neither he nor authorities would talk to newsmen when he was released last Thursday night.

The Tuesday night rifle slaying of William L. Moore, 35, a Baltimore mailman, was termed a "senseless, brutal killing with no apparent motive except hate" by a state investigator, Lt. Maurice Chambers.

Moore was hiking from Chattanooga, Tenn., to Jackson, Miss., where he had hoped to present his antisegregation views to Gov. Ross Barnett.

Authorities declined to name the men they picked up, but Mrs. Kilian and Mrs. Floyd Simpson said their husbands were taken into custody Thursday for questioning.

Mrs. Simpson said her husband operates a small store in a building owned by Kilian. The location is about 18 miles from another store Moore stopped at shortly before he was shot twice at close range with a rifle.

Prointegration signs Moore was carrying were found near the body.

After investigators abruptly ended their hours-long questioning of the two men, six state and county officers sent to adjacent DeKalb County, apparently to check out a new lead.

Maj. Bill Jones, chief of the investigative division of the State Department of Public Safety, declined to comment on the progress of the investigation.

Orders for Machines Pouring in

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Business is catching up with capacity in some overbuilt industries. And orders for new machine tools are pouring in at last.

That is the happy interpretation which many makers of factory equipment put on the recent spurt in orders after several years of coasting along.

Excess capacity has been the chief reason given for the slowdown in business spending for plants and equipment. Such spending is a strong booster in a growing economy. And economists put great significance on signs that spending is turning up now, along with the two other props: consumer and government spending.

Dallas, Tex., for the wedding of Miss Jean Harris, formerly of Hope, and Lawrence R. McCoy on Saturday and to cater the rehearsal dinner Friday night.

MISS MARGIE PEARL HERTEL

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hertel of Sugar Land, Texas, announce the engagement of their daughter, Margie Pearl, to Ernest Barham Taylor of Sugar Land, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Taylor of Hope.

The vows will be read at Trinity Lutheran Church in Rosenberg on June 14.

Some of the jump in machine tool orders in the last two months could be chalked up to old age. A lot of the present equipment may look obsolete in an era of keen competition, especially when a better chance for selling finished products is sighted.

And some of the new orders probably have been sparked by the increase of cash in tills of companies taking advantage of new depreciation tax savings, or influenced by the 7 per cent tax credit incentive for modernizing their factories. Congress voted the incentive last year with the aim of getting business spending climbing again.

Whatever the cause, machine tool makers believe that 1963 has seen a turn in their fortunes. They prospered greatly in the mid-1950s when U.S. industry went on a spree of expansion of plants and buying of new equipment for these and for old ones.

The National Machine Tool Builders Association in Cleveland reports that industry orders in March rose to $73,350,000 from $72,550,000 in February, and was $10 million higher than a year ago.

Cutting tool orders of $48.3 million in March were the highest for any month since June 1959. This brought orders for the first three months of the year to $159,850,000, highest for any quarter since 1957.

April orders are reported to have continued at the same high level.

Increased domestic orders were helped along by a spurt in foreign orders, which had been slipping since November 1961, when several of the industrially developed nations were completing their big postwar buildup.

Tool makers say much of their increased overseas business has come from underdeveloped countries getting U.S. foreign aid funds for new industries.

Taken with announced intentions of many companies to step up expansion and modernization programs this year, the dollars-and-cents evidence of increased machine tool orders could be pointing to a nice advance in business spending ahead. Government spending is sure to rise at various levels. And consumers give every sign of increasing their outlays a bit more, too.

Ship Doesn't Plan to Return

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Red Cross says the S.S. American Survivor, now unloading ransom supplies in Cuba, will not return to this country with refugees until at least next Monday.

Roy Popkin, of Red Cross national headquarters, said he knows of no reason for the delay. The freighter, which took 8,600 tons of drugs, medical supplies and baby food to Havana last week, is scheduled to bring about 1,000 more refugees to the United States.

The ship is the sixth to carry such cargo to Cuba in exchange for the release of 1,110 Bay of Pigs invaders last December.

are slim they're still alive."

At the shaft head at Dola, six miles northwest of here, wives of the trapped men, officials, off-shift workers and miners who escaped the blast kept a dawn vigil.

State Police blocked rural roads to keep away the curious. Ambulances and rescue vehicles stood by.

The explosion, tentatively laid to deadly and explosive methane gas, possibly in combination with coal dust, blew dirt and debris out the 330-foot main mine shaft just after 11 p.m. Twenty-nine miners working away from the explosion area tumbled out of the mine.

But 22 others—14 working on one seam, seven on another and a foreman who could have been with either group—did not appear. The area was a mile and three-quarters from the nearest mine opening.

A hurried call was put in for mine rescue crews, equipped with oxygen breathing apparatus. Teams rushed to the mine from Clarksburg and Fairmont. Five six-man teams were on the job before dawn.

Stephen Canonico, Clarksburg vice president, said the lead rescue team encountered traces of methane gas about 3,500 feet from the area in which the men were working. Blowers dispersed the deadly fumes.

The rescue groups penetrated to within 1,500 feet of the work area by dawn. Smoke thickened as the teams advanced. No rock falls were encountered and Canonico was hopeful the area of the trapped men could be reached in a matter of hours.

"If they were physically able, they would have tried to throw up a bulkhead or barrier," he said. "But in the circumstances, I don't know if they had the chance."

Names of the trapped men were not immediately available. Canonico said a list would be released after their fate is determined. All were local men from the Clarksburg area.

The Compass No. 2 mine, a shaft and drift operation as opposed to open surface mines, employs 185 men.

HIS GIRL DATES THE TOWN FLIRT
By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Friends keep running to me with news of my girl chasing around with another boy. I replied that it was no scandal and, if it made her happy, okay. But the ache in my heart has been unbearable for I love this girl dearly.

Our arrangement was awkward in a way I can't explain. Once before it ended, then was held by a thread for a long time. When I foresaw the nearness of the end of the beautiful love, I tried to poison myself, not wanting to undergo the torture of our first break-up. I succeeded in only causing more pain than I had known in my whole life.

Now I'm up against the same old situation. My girl's friends say not to worry that she chases every skirt in school and will soon be off with the old and on with the new. Just today, a pal, after hearing the whole story, said, "She's crazy. Forget her!" But I can't. She's my every thought. If this other guy is going to drop her, should I stay and pick up the pieces or should I, as advised, forget her? —Forlorn

Dear Forlorn: You need a backbone. To attempt suicide is a weakling's way out. To listen to "Friends" betrays indecision. I doubt if you're in love at all for you're not expressing the attributes of true love. If you did, you would think of the girl, not yourself, and do what is right for her come hell or high water. Why not play this romance cool? Try keeping it on the friendship rather than sweetheart level. Incidentally, that's the surest way to win her back. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for "Are You Sure It's Love?"

Dear Helen: I've been wanting to write you for a long time but until now, lacked the courage. I'm 36 and have been going with a man of 39 for 10 years. He insists he loves me and that some day we will marry. I long to be married and have a family but fear that if we wait too long I shan't be able to bear children. A year ago I went away to work in another city, moping to forget this man but at the end of six months returned, unable to put him out of my life. When I came back I told him we should marry. All he said was, "Be patient; we will some day."

I'm beginning to think he fears marriage. I discussed this with my mother who likes him. She thinks I would be foolish to give him up for he is a good man (he is also very handsome.) Please help me. —Desperate

Dear Desperate: You're playing a losing game if matrimony is your objective. Is it a home and children or the love of a man that you want? At the risk of losing the guy I'd call quits. If he can't make up his mind in 10 years he never will. Returning to him only weakened your position. Let him pursue you for a chance. If he doesn't, that's that. There are as many fish in the sea as ever came out of it. Be adventurous. Broaden your horizon.

Dear Helen: Your column has helped me often in the past. Next month we are moving to another city because of my mother's health. All of us hate to leave our home and friends but there is no alternative. Each day I find it more and more difficult to face up to the fact of moving. There is a boy here whom I like very much. Would it be proper for me to write him after we go? He's shy and so am I. —D. D.

Dear D.: It would be entirely proper for you to send all of your friends, including the boy, picture postcards of your new home town. After that let him take the initiative. It's human nature to resist change but I've found from experience that each move is usually for the better. Life itself is change. Settling in a new town

Pershing Missile Proved Tough

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Army's Pershing missile proved itself as tough as it is rough in service launching tests now ended here.

A 190-mile flight Wednesday was the fourth successful launch by troops to see how the Pershing would fly after being jolted to the firing pad over rough ground, as well it might be in battle conditions.

Men of the 44th Artillery's Battery A, Fort Sill, Okla., launched the rocket and it functioned without a hitch, a spokesman said.

The 38-month-old Pershing program now shifts to White Sands, N.M., where troops will fire it for practice before being assigned to Pershing battalions which will be stationed in Western Europe.

U.S. Baseball Team Again Tries Cuba
By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAO PAULO, Brazil (P)—The baseball team from Cuba gets a chance to jar the U.S. juggernaut at the Pan-American Games today.
Cuba slugged the U.S. 13-1 in the opening game of the double round robin. The U.S. has a 3-1 record at this stage, while Cuba is 2-1 with the loss to Mexico.
If the baseball medal eludes the Yankees, it will be one of the few that got away in a triumphant march that to date has even exceeded the high expectations of the U.S. team.
The U.S. has grabbed 33 gold medals, with only eight going to all the other nations.
Thursday, American athletes grabbed 14 of the 15 medals decided, finished a clean sweep of all eight wrestling titles and took all the swimming titles on the card to maintain that monopoly.
Two gold medals came in weightlifting, and one each in fencing, equestrian dressage and tennis. Another was sewed up in rapid fire pistol shooting, where two Americans tied for first and will shoot it off today.
The U.S. also has 12 silver and 10 bronze medals, both high American swimmers set three Pan-Am records in winning all four races Thursday.
Carl Robie, 17, of Drexel Hill, Pa., won the 200-meter butterfly in 2 minutes, 11.3 seconds; Alice Driscoll, 17, of Louisville, took the 200-meter breaststroke in 2:56.2, and Terri Stickle of Santa Clara, Calif., 17 next month, won the 100-meter freestyle in 1:02.8.
The U.S. 400-meter women's medley relay team also won.
Yankee wrestlers, who had won three titles, added the other five Thursday. Andy Fitch, New York, won the flyweight; Bill Riddle of Livonia, Mich., the bantamweight; Greg Ruth of Highland Falls, N.Y., the lightweight; John Fitzgerald of Ann Arbor, Mich., welterweight and Joe Israel James of Chicago the heavyweight crown.
Weightlifting medals were captured by Sid Henry of Dallas, heavyweight, and Bill March of York, Pa., middle heavyweight.
Patricia Galvin of San Francisco won the equestrian dressage, and the U.S. men's foil team took that competition.
The American who tied for the pistol title were SFC Lawrence Mosely of Norfolk, Va., and Capt. Cecil Wallis of Columbus, Ga.
The team of Darlene Hard of Long Beach, Calif., and Carole Cecil Wallis of Columbus, Ga., won the women's double title in tennis.

Spring brides have so many beautiful fabrics and silhouettes to choose from in wedding gowns that this season should be blooming with the prettiest brides ever to walk down the aisle. Among the season's most exquisite creations are demure bouffant gowns of embroidered Swiss organdy, dividing into panels over a cotton organdy skirt. Sleeves are tiny and the neckline is scooped.
warmer with the high in the 70s; partly cloudy tonight with the low in the middle and upper 40s east to 50-55 southwest; Saturday increasing cloudiness with thundershowers likely late Saturday.
ARKANSAS—Partly cloudy and mild except a little warmer south today, tonight and Saturday; widely scattered thundershowers likely west tonight and over state Saturday; high today mostly in the 60s; low tonight mostly in the 50s.

Retired Navy Captain Is Called Back
By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has called back from retirement Capt. William R. Anderson former skipper of the pioneer nuclear submarine Nautilus, to help pull together its underwater rescue programs and techniques for salvage from the ocean floor.
Anderson's return to temporary active duty with a new naval group was learned today, little more than two weeks after the nuclear submarine Thresher sank a mile and a half under the Atlantic's waves with 129 men.
Because of the great depth the Navy holds out no hope for salvaging the Thresher. And the Navy said there are no plans now for Anderson's group to have any direct part in the search to locate the submarine's hulk.
Anderson, 41, who had been in Nautilus shipmate of the Thresher's skipper, Lt. Cmdr. John W. Harvey, will head the submarine section of the newly formed group to consolidate all the Navy's oceanographic and deep salvage studies.
Rear Adm. E. C. Stephan, named chairman of the "Deep Submergence Systems Review Group," had asked that Anderson join the organization.
Anderson, whose home is Waverly, Tenn., retired from active service last June to work with the Freedom Foundation with headquarters at Valley Forge, Pa.

Red Hot Mets Boast Best Percentage

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Casey Stengel's New York Mets edged the Chicago Cubs 3-2 Thursday and now are 6-9 on the season for a .400 percentage—the highest in their history.

The Mets, who usually find one day of the week as bad as the one before and no better than the one coming up, used Frank Thomas' run-producing single in the first inning and a two-run sixth inning homer for the first Thursday victory in their two-season history.

Coupled with Thomas' hitting was the tight seven-hit pitching of Roger Craig and a rare third to first shortstop doubleplay that ended the game.

Lou Brock, who scored both Cubs runs, singled with one out in the ninth inning and attempted to go to third base as Charlie Neal threw out Ken Hubbs. A quick throw by first baseman Gil Hodges to Al Moran, the shortstop covering third, nailed the speeding Brock.

Bob Miller, who survived a 1-12 season with the Mets and was traded to Los Angeles, exceeded his 1962 victory total as he won his second with a five-hitter in the Dodgers 7-1 triumph over Cincinnati. The Dodgers have won five of six.

Elsewhere, San Francisco moved into a tie with St. Louis for first place in the National League by beating the Cards 8-4, and Houston beat Milwaukee 7-5. Pittsburgh and Philadelphia were not scheduled.

In the American League, Baltimore took over the top spot with a 3-2 triumph over Kansas City in 10 innings. Minnesota shut out Washington 3-0 and the Los Angeles Angels defeated Detroit 7-5. The other clubs were idle.

The amazing Mets got their first run off Dick Ellsworth on singles by Ron Hunt, Charlie Neal and Thomas. In the sixth, Neal doubled and Thomas slammed one out of the park. Brock came across with the first Cub run in the fifth, scoring on Jimmy Schaffer's double. Bob Will's pinch-hit single drove in Brock in the fifth.

The victory was the first in three decisions for Craig while Ellsworth's record was brought to 2-2.

Miller allowed the Reds' only run in the seventh when Johnny Edwards doubled, took third on a fly and scored on an infield out. It was Miller's second victory without a loss.

John Roseboro, Willie Davis and Ron Fairly backed Miller's pitching with homers off Joey Jay, who has lost four without winning.

The Giants moved out front to stay in the second inning when Orlando Cepeda hit a solo homer and Ed Bailey connected with one on. Bailey also singled home a run in the third inning off loser Ray Sadecki. Billy O'Dell was the San Francisco, but the victory went to reliever Bob Bolin. Former Braves Don Nottbart, Don McMahon and Al Spangler did most of the damage for the Colts. Nottbart won his third without a loss with help from McMahon while Spangler singled in the run that snapped a 2-2 tie as Houston came up with five runs and tagged Hank Fischer with the defeat.

Hogs Perform for Coaches Saturday

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The University of Arkansas Razorbacks take to the field today in a prep session before showing off their ability to some 350 to 400 football coaches Saturday.

The Porkers will go through a game scrimmage before the coaches, on campus for a clinic. Thursday Coach Frank Broyles sent the Hogs through a two-hour and 15 minute workout, including an hour of scrimmage.

It was the most "fired up" session of spring football practice and Broyles said the team "really looked reckless."

Gordon Guest and Billy Gray connected for long touchdowns. Guest hit Bobby Crockett for a 60-yard score and Gray popped a ball to end Jerry Lamb for a 35-yard touchdown.

Broyles said the younger team members were catching on to defensive plays well.

During the Saturday scrimmage Broyles and his assistants will explain to visiting coaches how the Razorbacks operate, then give them a chance to ask questions.

The scrimmage will be filmed and probably will determine the line-up for the May 4 Red-White intrasquad game in Little Rock.

Trainer Bill Ferrell said Thursday tailback Ken Hatfield, tackle Jim Williams and ends James Finch and Dennis Brown were injured and wouldn't see action Saturday.

Porker Golfers Are Defeated

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Bob Renner and Doug Douglas, both of Fayetteville, downed R. H. Sikes and Richard McCauley, the number one and two men on the University of Arkansas golf team, 2-up Thursday in the Northwest Arkansas Times PGA four ball tournament.

Douglas and Renner finished the opening round of the tournament with a 6-under-par 63. There are 254 persons entered in the tournament.

MIDSEASON FORM—Yankee pitcher Roland Sheldon seems to be in midseason form in camp at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Play Settles After Surge of Homers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

For the first few innings it looked as if Jacksonville at Toronto were going to set some home run records.

Both teams crashed two round-trippers in the first two innings of their game at Toronto. Then the game settled down to a pitcher's duel between Toronto's Carl Greene and Jacksonville's Floyd Weaver. Only Greene was around in the ninth when Larry Brown powered a double to drive in the winning run and give Jacksonville a 4-3 victory.

In other International League games Thursday night, Atlanta defeated Syracuse 4-1, Indianapolis beat Columbus 6-5 in 11 innings and Richmond edged Buffalo 6-5 in 13 innings. Arkansas at Rochester was postponed.

Atlanta's Bob Sadowski scattered six hits to beat Syracuse for the second time. Joe Morgan led the Crackers to their second straight victory over the Chiefs by polling four successive hits.

Indianapolis got eight innings of steady relief pitching from Ed Nottle and a pinch single by Gene Stephens in the 11th inning to down Columbus despite some shaky fielding. All the Jets' runs were uncared.

A long double by Tom Umphlett with none out in the 13th inning sent home the winning run for Richmond against Buffalo. The hit was Umphlett's fifth in six times at bat this season.

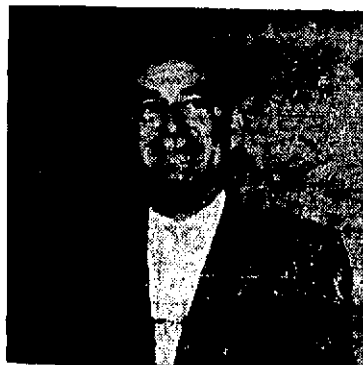

The game has been scoreless since the seventh when Richmond tied at 5-5 on a single by Horace Clarke and a double by Mike Mathiesen, his fourth straight hit.
